

Certification Program

What is the CanadaGAP Certification Program?

CanadaGAP[®] is a food safety program for companies that supply fresh fruits and vegetables. The program has received full Canadian Government Recognition and is designed to help you implement effective food safety procedures in your operation. Two manuals, one specific to greenhouse operations, the second for other fruit and vegetable operations, have been developed by the horticultural industry and reviewed for technical soundness by Canadian government officials. The manuals are designed for companies implementing Good Agricultural Practices (GAPs) in their fruit and vegetable production, packing and storage operations, and for repackers and wholesalers implementing Good Manufacturing Practices (GMPs) and HACCP Programs. The program is also designed for fresh produce brokers implementing best practices in supplier management and product traceability. The manuals are based on the seven basic principles of the internationally-recognized HACCP (Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Point) approach. Audit and certification services for the program are delivered by accredited Certification Bodies. CanadaGAP is formally benchmarked to and officially recognized by the Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI).

What does it mean to be certified?

Certification means a qualified authority has determined that your operation meets the standard and is being maintained on an ongoing basis. This involves having a third party auditor from the Certification Body come to your operation, review your CanadaGAP manual(s) and related records, visit your facilities and interview the operator and staff, and assess your conformance to the CanadaGAP Audit Checklist. Once you pass the audit, you will be certified to the program.

Why become CanadaGAP certified?

The certification program is open to fresh fruit and vegetable suppliers who need to demonstrate to their customers that they are implementing an effective food safety program.

If your buyer is asking specifically for the CanadaGAP certification, you should enrol. Certification is being requested by buyers who wish to ensure that the CanadaGAP manuals are being implemented effectively by their suppliers (e.g., Metro, Loblaw Companies Limited, McCain Foods Canada, Simplot Canada, Lamb-Weston, Cavendish, etc.). If your customer requires a GFSI-recognized program, you can enrol in CanadaGAP certification option B, C or D to meet your customers' requirements. Repackers, wholesalers and brokers should select option D.
