

COMMUNIQUÉ CANADAGAP® COMMUNIQUÉ

To: CanadaGAP Stakeholders
Date: January 26, 2022
Subject: CanadaGAP Food Safety Manuals Remain the Same for 2022

CanadaGAP wishes to advise program participants and other stakeholders that the CanadaGAP Food Safety Manual for Fresh Fruits and Vegetables and the CanadaGAP Food Safety Manual for Greenhouse Product will not be updated and reissued for 2022.

Program participants may continue to use the current version of the documents (Version 9.0 2021), which are available to download free of charge on the CanadaGAP website under the Manuals section.

REMINDER: Even though the CanadaGAP Manuals remain the same for 2022, your own copy of the manual needs to be reviewed annually to confirm that you are maintaining the procedures and/or to reflect any changes in your operation.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Please expect to receive from CanadaGAP a Correction Notice for the manuals within the next month or so. A few minor corrections need to be made to the manuals heading into the 2022 growing season. Details will be provided as soon as possible. These minor corrections will not affect the version number of the manuals.

Updates to other CanadaGAP documents:

- Audit Checklist and Self-Declaration and Self-Assessment Checklist: Please note that the Audit Checklist and the Self-Declaration and Self-Assessment Checklist will be reissued and posted to the website prior to April 1, 2022 when revisions take effect. A revisions document showing the changes between the previous and the new versions of the audit checklist will be available at that time. Program participants and other stakeholders will be informed once the new versions are available.
- Program Management Manual: This document contains the certification program rules, which will see some significant updates for 2022. The CanadaGAP Program Management Manual will be reissued with revisions effective April 1, 2022. Further notice of changes to the certification program rules will be provided in the coming weeks; please watch for these announcements.
